

MORE?

Call for One-Minute Video Shorts for the *Night of Ideas 2023

The Institut Français and the French Embassy in the UK, in cooperation with UCL, are glad to announce an open call for video essays from students for the Night of Ideas 2023. The Night of Ideas is an annual festival of debate, discussion, performance, music, film and more at the Institut français, France's cultural institute in London. It brings together top thinkers, artists and political figures to address pressing questions facing the world today.

The theme of the next edition, on 9 February 2023, is "MORE?".

When does MORE become TOO MUCH?
A right to MORE?
Is MORE limitless?

We are seeking 1-minute video essays, thought-provoking in form and content, from undergraduate or postgraduate students currently enrolled in a London university.

First prize: £250
Second prize: £100

The two winning entries and 8 runners-up will be screened during the Night of Ideas at the Institut Français in South Kensington.

The videos will be

- previously unpublished work
- max. 60 seconds in length
- subtitled in English
- uploaded to Vimeo in private mode; link and password to be provided
- accompanied by a 150-word English-language bio

Deadline: submissions must be received by 2 January 2023. Email the Vimeo link + password and the bio to: florence.ferran@ambascience.co.uk.

Bertrand Buchwalter

*Director, Institut français du Royaume-Uni.
Cultural Counsellor, French Embassy in the UK*

Minh-Hà Pham

*Counsellor for Science and Technology,
French Embassy in the UK*

Tim Beasley-Murray

Vice-Dean (External Engagement), UCL Arts and Humanities

Uta Staiger

Director, UCL European Institute

