

New to UCL survey 2022: guidance for staff

The New to UCL survey will run for six weeks during First Term, from 31 October to 11 December 2022. It is open to all new students at all levels of study, regardless of whether they are in London or learning remotely.

The survey is managed by the Student Engagement & Experience team, within the Office of the Vice-Provost (Education & Student Experience) who poll eligible students via email and run a prize draw for students who complete the survey.

The survey is a rich source of feedback on why students choose UCL, as well as the extent to which they feel confident and supported in beginning their programme of study.

Staff can help secure high response rates by promoting the survey directly to the students, putting out digital content and sending promotional emails to their students.

Key changes from last year

2021-22 was the New to UCL survey's sixth year, and the response rate was 31%, with over 7,000 students taking part. This year, we'd really value your support in continuing this impressive momentum as we look to secure another high response rate for New to UCL 2022-23.

The content of the New to UCL questionnaire is similar to last year, to enable as much comparison as possible between results. However, we have made some small changes to the questions and response options – to reflect current UCL policies (e.g. removal of social distancing) or to make questions easier to understand. You can find the full New to UCL question list on the Teaching & Learning Portal.

Student eligibility

All new students at all levels of study are eligible to take part in New to UCL (22,600 students last year). This includes undergraduates, those on foundation degrees, postgraduate taught and research students, as well as those studying via affiliates.

Students who have studied before at a different level (for instance a PGT student who completed their Bachelor's at UCL) are eligible to complete the survey, too.

Achieving high response rates in your department

Heads of Department and survey liaison officers will receive weekly response rate updates from the Student Engagement & Experience team, to help them monitor their students' engagement with the survey.

As well as providing these weekly updates, the Student Engagement & Experience team will promote the survey to eligible students through reminder emails to eligible students and social media posts on UCL's corporate channels.

However, it has been shown that students respond best to requests for feedback from university staff they already know and respect. As such, departmental / faculty staff support is extremely valuable in encouraging as many students as possible to have their say.

To help gather more feedback on the experience of joining UCL via New to UCL, you could:

- ✓ Do a lecture shout, or ask a lecturer to speak instead, on how and why to take the New to UCL survey
- ✓ Hold a digital event or drop-in session where all new UCL students in your department are given the opportunity to take the survey
- ✓ Download the digital promotional materials from the Teaching & Learning Portal or request physical A4 posters to be delivered to your department via student.engagement@ucl.ac.uk.
- ✓ Discuss last year's results at a Staff-Student Consultative Committee (SSCC) meeting and ask Student Academic Representatives to promote the survey
- ✓ Promote the survey on a module or programme's Moodle page
- ✓ Make a post on the Virtual Common Room for your programme or department promoting New to UCL 2022
- ✓ Provide a departmental incentive or prize draw (in addition to the prize draw the Student Engagement & Experience team is running centrally).

Key points for a lecture shout or promotional message:

- ✓ The survey is for all new students across undergraduate and postgraduate levels, to help UCL understand the arrival experience better and make changes where necessary
- ✓ Last year we changed / introduced [departmental examples] as a result of the students' feedback
- ✓ Students will have received an email invitation to complete the survey. You can also find out more via www.ucl.ac.uk/you-shaped-ucl
- √ Students' answers are anonymised
- ✓ Students could win a £500 cash jackpot, or one of 50 £10 Love2Shop vouchers when they take part.

Templates for promoting the survey digitally

Text for a promotional email [modify as appropriate]:

Dear [student],

UCL would like to hear your views on the experience of starting in [department / school / division name] this year. This is a good opportunity to have your say about why you chose to study here, how you've found your welcome experience, and how it could be improved further.

To give your feedback go to the survey site – you may be prompted to sign log in through UCL's single sign-on portal.

Last year, in response to student feedback our department changed [examples]. Responses to the New to UCL survey will be considered as we continue to evolve the student experience.

Students who complete this survey automatically get the chance to win £500 in cash, or one of 50 Love2Shop vouchers worth £10.

Best wishes, [Your name]

New to UCL prize draw

All students who complete the New to UCL survey automatically enter a prize draw for a grand prize of £500 in cash or one of 50 x £10 Love2Shop vouchers.

Some departments have previously reported that their students have occasionally been sceptical of the prize draws. If you'd like to reinforce that winning the grand prize is possible, you can refer students to an interview with last year's New to UCL jackpot winner.

If you'd like to run your own incentive scheme as well, we can provide you with a list of your department's students who participated, at the end of the survey. Please emphasise to students that all of their answers and open text comments are anonymised.
